Names

All names under which you have been or are currently known will be included on the Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check.

If you are concerned about the disclosure of details relating to your previous known names, please contact CrimCheck for assistance.

Change of name

If you provide identity documents using a former name, you must provide evidence of your name change. This means providing a change of name certificate issued by the Australian Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages or an Australian marriage certificate issued by a state or territory, in addition to your four identity documents. Church or celebrant-issued certificates are not accepted.

Special provisions for proof of identity

The ACIC recognises that in exceptional circumstances you may not be able to meet the minimum proof of identity requirements. Please contact CrimCheck who will assess your ability to meet the requirements and determine the most suitable method to confirm your identity.

SECTION A – PERSONAL INFORMATION

A1 Please read this before answering the following questions.

You must disclose all names you have been known by throughout your life, including your full legal name, name before marriage (maiden name), and other previous names and/or alias names.

All names that you submit as part of your Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check, will appear on the check result. If you are concerned about the disclosure of a previous name, please contact CrimCheck.

With each previous known name you provide, you must include your family name, first given names and other given names (if applicable).

Example:

When Lucianne was born, she was given the first name Lucianne, second given name Jane and surname of Jones. When she was married, she changed her surname to Smith. Lucianne commonly uses the name Lucy when introducing herself in the community.

As such, Lucianne has four known names—her current name, maiden name, the alias name she used before she got married and the alias name she uses now. Lucianne needs to provide all four names when completing this form, as follows:

Current name	Smith, Lucianne Jane
Maiden name	Jones, Lucianne Jane
Alias name	Smith, Lucy Jane
Previous name	Jones, Lucy Jane
